Abstract

The purpose of this research is to understand the formation of children's personalities, children's rights from an Islamic perspective, and the influence of family dynamics on children's development. This study also analyzes the role of sholehah mothers in supporting the growth of children's character. The analysis carried out is descriptive and interpretive, to dig into the collected data in depth. The data were analyzed using descriptive statistics to find out general trends, while interpretive statistics were used to understand the significance and implications of the findings. Data is collected through various literature sources relevant to the research topic. The results of this study show that a pious mother has a very important role in supporting and motivating her children to reach their best potential. Mrs. Sholehah provides support in various ways, such as giving praise and appreciation for the achievements achieved by the child, providing encouragement and motivation when the child faces challenges, and helping the child achieve his goals. This study confirms that support and motivation from parents, especially mothers, are crucial for children's physical, mental, and emotional development. With sincere attention, children can grow and develop well, become positive individuals and have noble character.

1. Introduction

Is task parent 's point , especially race women , for to form character his children . The role of a child in develop Morals , soul and noble character are greatly influenced by exemplary behavior and love Darling a obedient mother religious (Utomo, 2018). The formation of children's character is greatly influenced by the exemplary behavior shown by the mother. Children tend to imitate what they see, especially from their parents, so mothers who set an example of good behavior will help children develop positive values. In addition, the mother's sincere love and attention play an equally important role. The sincerity and care that mothers give will strengthen emotional connections with children and help them grow up with a sense of security and value. Mothers who are also obedient to religious teachings can have a greater influence, because children will be accustomed to moral values taught through their actions. Thus, mothers not only play the role of caregivers, but also as the main educators who shape the character and personality of children, making them individuals with noble ethics and noble character.

Children will more Ready face challenge live and give contribution positive for public If they develop strong character rooted in noble religious beliefs . Freedom a child For choose his family protected in Islam. A solid character, which includes values such as honesty, responsibility, perseverance, and empathy, is essential for helping children overcome obstacles in their lives. When these values are based on good religious teachings, children not only grow up to be wise individuals in making decisions, but also play an active role in building a better society. In addition, Islam also protects the freedom of children to choose their families, which is a fundamental right respected in religious teachings. In Islam, children are given protection to grow up in a family environment that is compassionate, educational, and provides good examples. This will support them in forming a strong character and ready to face the future. With this foundation, children will not only grow into resilient individuals, but will also have a positive impact around them, both in their personal and social lives.

Every child entitled For grow in a full house love honey where are they can feel safe , accepted , and cared for . Children more Possible grow be a good person with high moral standards when they grow in a full house love darling . Children will feel safe and secure in a full house love dear and Islam, where are they can develop in a way maximum Because emphasis on harmony and love (Fitriani, 2020). This statement emphasizes the importance of a loving and affectionate family environment for children's development. Every child has the right to grow up in a home that provides a sense of security, acceptance, and care, which is the basic foundation for their physical, emotional, and social development. When children are raised in a loving home, they tend to feel valued and accepted for who they are, which helps them develop a high sense of self-confidence and emotional stability. Children who grow up in an environment full of love and compassion have a greater chance of developing into individuals who have high moral standards. They learn about values such as kindness, honesty, empathy, and a sense of responsibility from loving interactions with parents and families. A loving environment also teaches children the importance of respecting others, as well as providing them with good examples to apply in their lives. In the context of Islam, a home full of love and harmony also provides a guarantee for children to grow up in the maximum way. Islam teaches the importance of affection, harmony, and mutual respect in the family. In a household filled with love and religious values, children can develop holistically, both in spiritual, moral, and social aspects. The emphasis on family harmony in Islam plays an important role in creating an environment that supports the growth of children to become good, wise, and noble individuals. Magazine This dedicated For explore impact religious mothers to development character children them , especially those related with right they For choose family they ourselves . We will explore idea about obedient mothers religion , Islamic perspective on rights children , and the impact House to development personality somebody (Qomariah, 2020). In addition , the journal This will offer a number of tactics that can used by obedient mothers religious For create life House full stairs love love and encourage growth character children them . If parents understand Islamic teachings about importance a virtuous woman noble and rights children , they will more Ready For provide environment a full house love darling where are the kids can develop morally .

enlightenment about right child For choose environment House them and the impact a religious mother to development character children they.

3. Results And Discussion

A. The Concept of a Sholehah Mother

A obedient mother religious is a loving mother his children without terms and conditions with a way that reflects his faith and devotion to Allah SWT. For Muslims, one a virtuous mother sublime more from just women who give birth and nurture children ; he is also a role models and helpful teachers to form his descendants be moral people tall and soulful good . Piety a Mother become example for their children and can impact great on their moral and spiritual growth . (Dewi, 2024)

Patience , love affection , knowledge , and being good example for children is proper traits admired from a obedient mother religious . Building a harmonious and fulfilling relationship love in family part big can come true through wisdom a Mother in take decisions and give direction , love sincere and unconditional love conditions , and his tolerance in face behavior their children . Because children , especially mother , imitate parental actions they , become good example very much important .

Sholehah is a dedicated mother tall and very serious in operate his job . He know that his job as a Mother is help his children grow be a good person who contributes for society and have strong moral principles , besides fulfil need material they . Children is grace from Allah SWT who must nurtured and educated with good , and Mrs. Sholehah fulfil not quite enough the answer with full devotion and obedience solely . (Somad, 2021). Not quite enough answer a obedient mother religious in help his children develop skills good communication is also the same importance . He is good listener , always own things that encourage For said , and encouraged children For share thought they . If the mothers communicate with children they in a way open and full attention , children they will feel Enough safe For open to they about what is the truth they feel . Relationship between mother and child will the more closely , and as the result , the mothers will feel more easy For lead and teach children they .

Foundation a strong and full family love is a devout mother religion . Love , support , and guidance from obedient mother religious will to form personality his son become more good . obedient mother religious own significant influence to his children Because He help to form they become the people you will become will serve to state, religion and society with high moral standards , admirable personality , and a kind soul .

B. Children's Rights in Islam

Is not quite enough answer parents For ensure that rights children they fulfilled in Islam. We are obliged fully For fulfil rights children this , because That is order from Allah SWT. Rights child includes :

- Children's rights For get love love , attention and guidance from parents covers right For accept love love and direction . In order to grow flower in a way physical , mental, and emotional , children need attention and love Darling full from parents . So that children can develop price self and joy in life , love love parents very much important Because love love parents can create environment that creates they feel safe , respected , and appreciated . So that children can overcome obstacles and make good choice , parental guidance very much important .
- Rights to proper education : Every child own inherent rights For get education secular and religious proper . While education general will equip student with information and skills that they need For to achieve success in the future , religious education will to form character good and moral children . Formal education at school and informal learning at home . are two forms education that must be provided by parents for children they .
- Children's rights For protected from violence , neglect , and prejudice bad covers right For protected from danger by parents and society wide . Violence , exploitation , and prejudice bad can happen in various form , and children are particularly vulnerable. to matter This is . It is task with parents and the community in a way overall For ensure that children protected from danger and can develop in free environment from danger .

- Everyone has the right to grow up children they in a safe , supportive and fulfilling atmosphere love Darling so that they can reach potential full they . Children tend grow be a good person If they grow in a full house love darling . It is parental obligations For provide peaceful home , full of love dear , and rooted in Islam for children they . Children tend grow with Good in a way physical and mental if they raised in a full house love darling , place they feel safe and supported . (Ilham, 2024)

C. Influence Environment Family to Character Formation of Children

Element main influencing factors development character somebody is environment home . Development a child become a good and virtuous person mulia is greatly helped by the environment supportive family . On the other hand , the development character a child will obstructed in the environment a house that is not healthy . Children learn the most from parents and members family others at home , therefore That No surprising If environment House own significant impact to character they .

Full house love Darling is House place for parents and children can express feeling they One each other with free . Children feel safe , loved and appreciated when parents show attention and concern ; thing This , in turn , helps they develop a sense of trust self and views positive life . When parents speak to children they in a way open and full love darling , thing That help they feel Enough safe For talk about feeling them . In addition to facilitating parental guidance and education , things This will deepen connection emotional between children and parents they .

Strong religious beliefs is another feature of House full stairs love dear . For their children , religious parents will become example virtue and instill a strong sense of spirituality . As a result , children will more Ready For be a good person with strong moral convictions . On the contrary , development character child can hampered by the environment toxic house . Children will develop feeling No able , anxious , and depressed If happen constant conflict and violence at home . As a result , the growth psychological , interpersonal, and behavioral child can disturbed . Children who are exposed things negative at home often have trend aggressive , difficulty socialize , and be vulnerable to influence negative . Moral and spiritual growth can stuck in a full house with things negative . Children will more difficult understand and execute moral and spiritual principles if parents they No religious or No follow what they teach (Ariif & Busa, 2020). Moral and spiritual growth of children can affected in a way negative by things this , which causes they become less of an adult caring , selfish , and responsible answer . So, it is very important for parents For make House they as good place for children they For grow and develop . Children tend grow be a good person , have noble character , and contribute for public If they grow in a full house love Darling .
